DEDICATION

A new high school was born in Tacoma this year, one that will continue to grow in the future. This school is our school, Woodrow Wilson High School. Our student body is composed of many young people who are working together as a unit for the first time. We have worked hard this first year and accomplished many things; most important of all we have established a good reputation for our school.

Just as we students at Wilson increase to maximum prominence at graduation, so in the heavens does a star, a NOVA, reach a maximum brilliance; then it gradually fades. Because a yearbook is actually a record of the growth of each class and its progress towards its climactic graduation, we of the yearbook staff have chosen NOVA as a very appropriate name for Wilson's annual.

This NOVA would never have reached its present brightness, which is illustrated by the cover design, without the enthusiasm of our student body. Our students have been solidly united in all projects, working hard but having fun. After all, it is the students who make a school, and Wilson students have done an exceptionally fine job of building Wilson's intrinsic spirit. Because of this, we dedicate the 1959 NOVA to the students of Woodrow Wilson High School.

After two previous attempts to get approval from the citizens of Tacoma, the school district received the green light in 1954 to begin construction of Woodrow Wilson High School, the first new Tacoma high school in forty-four years. Shortly after the bonds were approved, Lea, Pearson, and Richards began plans for the building. Actual construction was done by Nelson Construction Company and Bergh-Griggs Company. Electrical and mechanical details were finished by Western Electrical Company.

Educators, architects and engineers have described this campus-style high school as a "completely first-class structure —technically and functionally." The school is built around a large central plaza paved with concrete and landscaped with native shrubs. One section of this area is raised and can serve as an outdoor stage for assemblies, band concerts, and other open-air events.

An outstanding feature of the construction is the extensive use of precast concrete roof slabs and prestressed concrete beams. Six thousand channel-shaped roof slabs were cast on the building site at the rate of fifty-seven slabs per day. Most of the beams were also cast on the site with the exception of those spanning the swimming pool and the gym. Another outstanding feature is the gym floor, laid without the use of nails. The maple strips are fastened with metal splints and laid on a Portuguese cork sheet which keeps ground moisture from the wood.

To supplement the twelve buildings now completed, an auditorium and another classroom wing have been designed. These will be completed when money is appropriated.

DEDICATION

Principal Maynard Ponko introduces the next speaker.

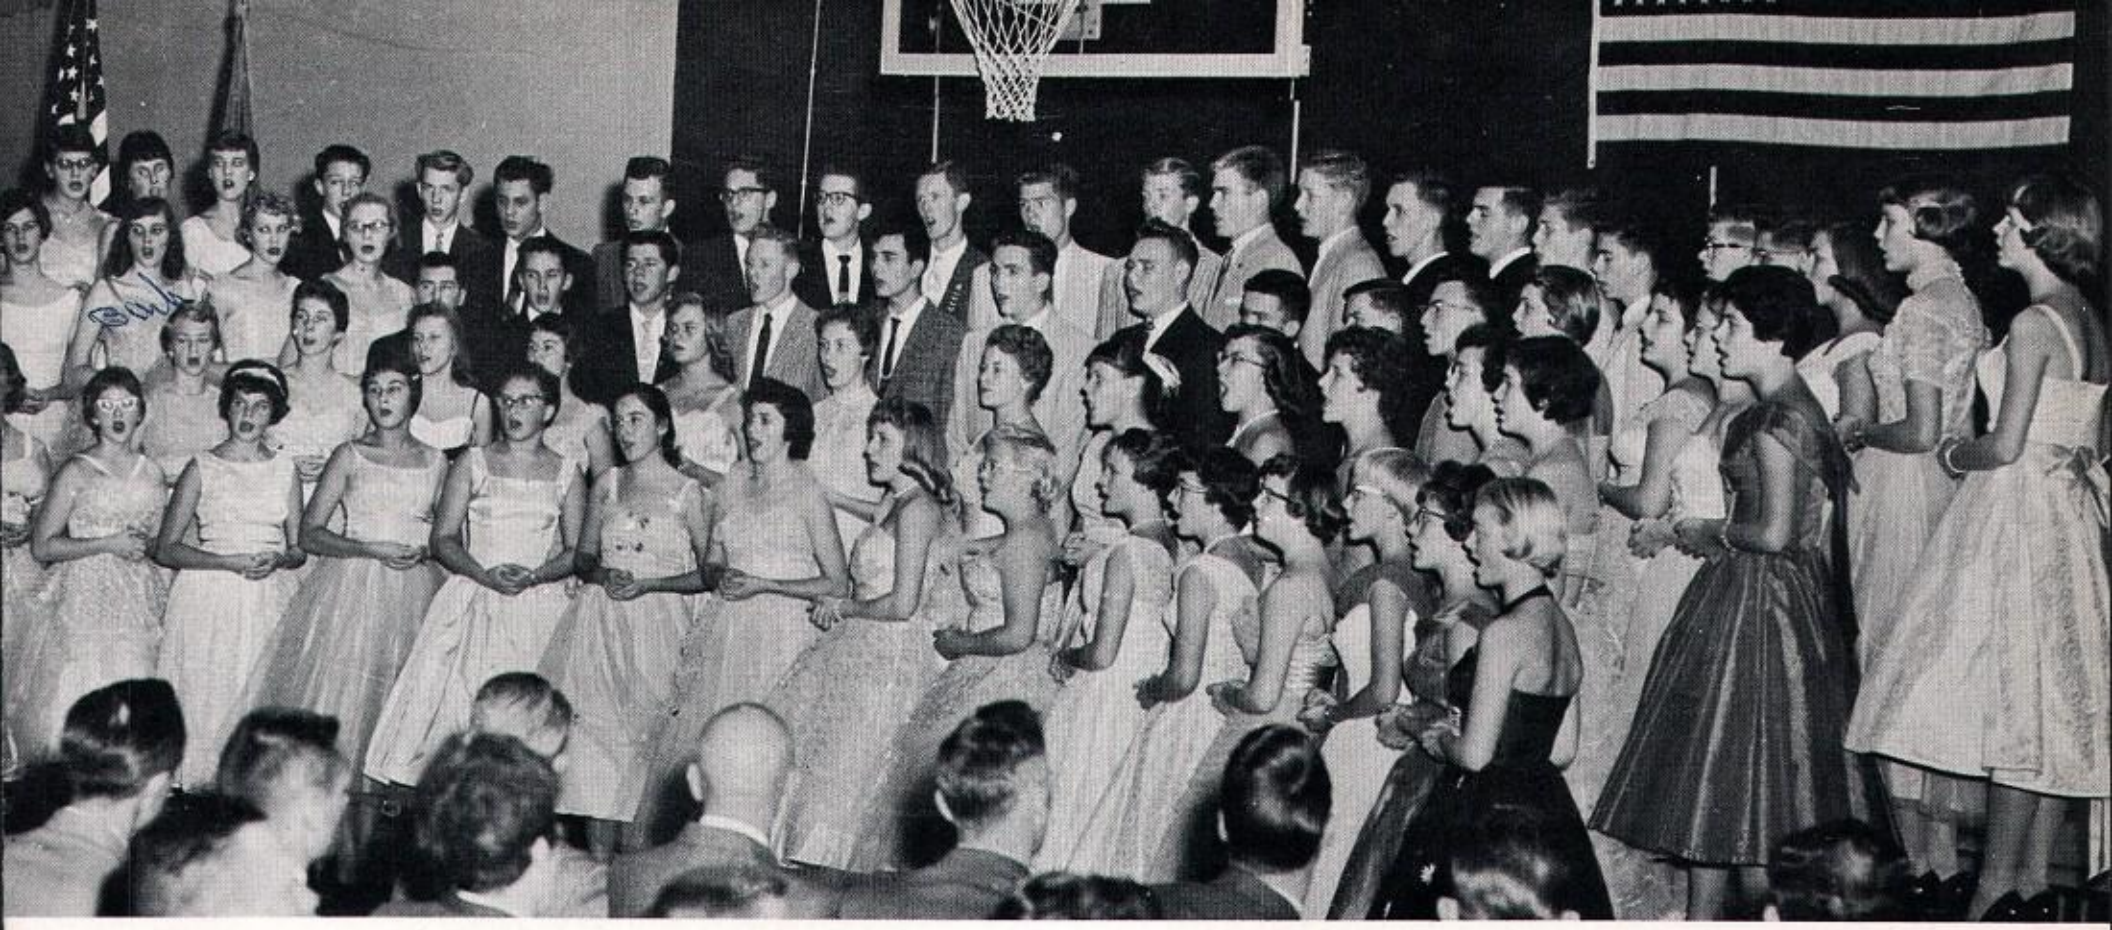
Wilson's band provided music during the ceremony.

One of the highlights of Wilson's first year was its dedication in November. At this ceremony Mr. John Richards of the architectural firm of Lea, Pearson, and Richards officially presented the school to Dr. Angelo Giaudrone, Superintendent of Schools.

This program was held in the gym and was attended by a large crowd of interested Tacomans. Wilson's concert band and choir made their debuts at this event. Informative comparisons between Thomas Woodrow Wilson's ideals and Woodrow Wilson High School's goals were brought out in speeches by school board members, faculty, and student body officers.

An important feature of the evening was a tour of the school and an opportunity for the guests to converse with faculty members. This tour was conducted by senior girls from Girls' Council, Girls' Honorary, and Girls' Athletic Association.

Wilson's first presidents participated in the program.



The first public appearance of Wilson's choir was at the dedication of the school on November 20th.

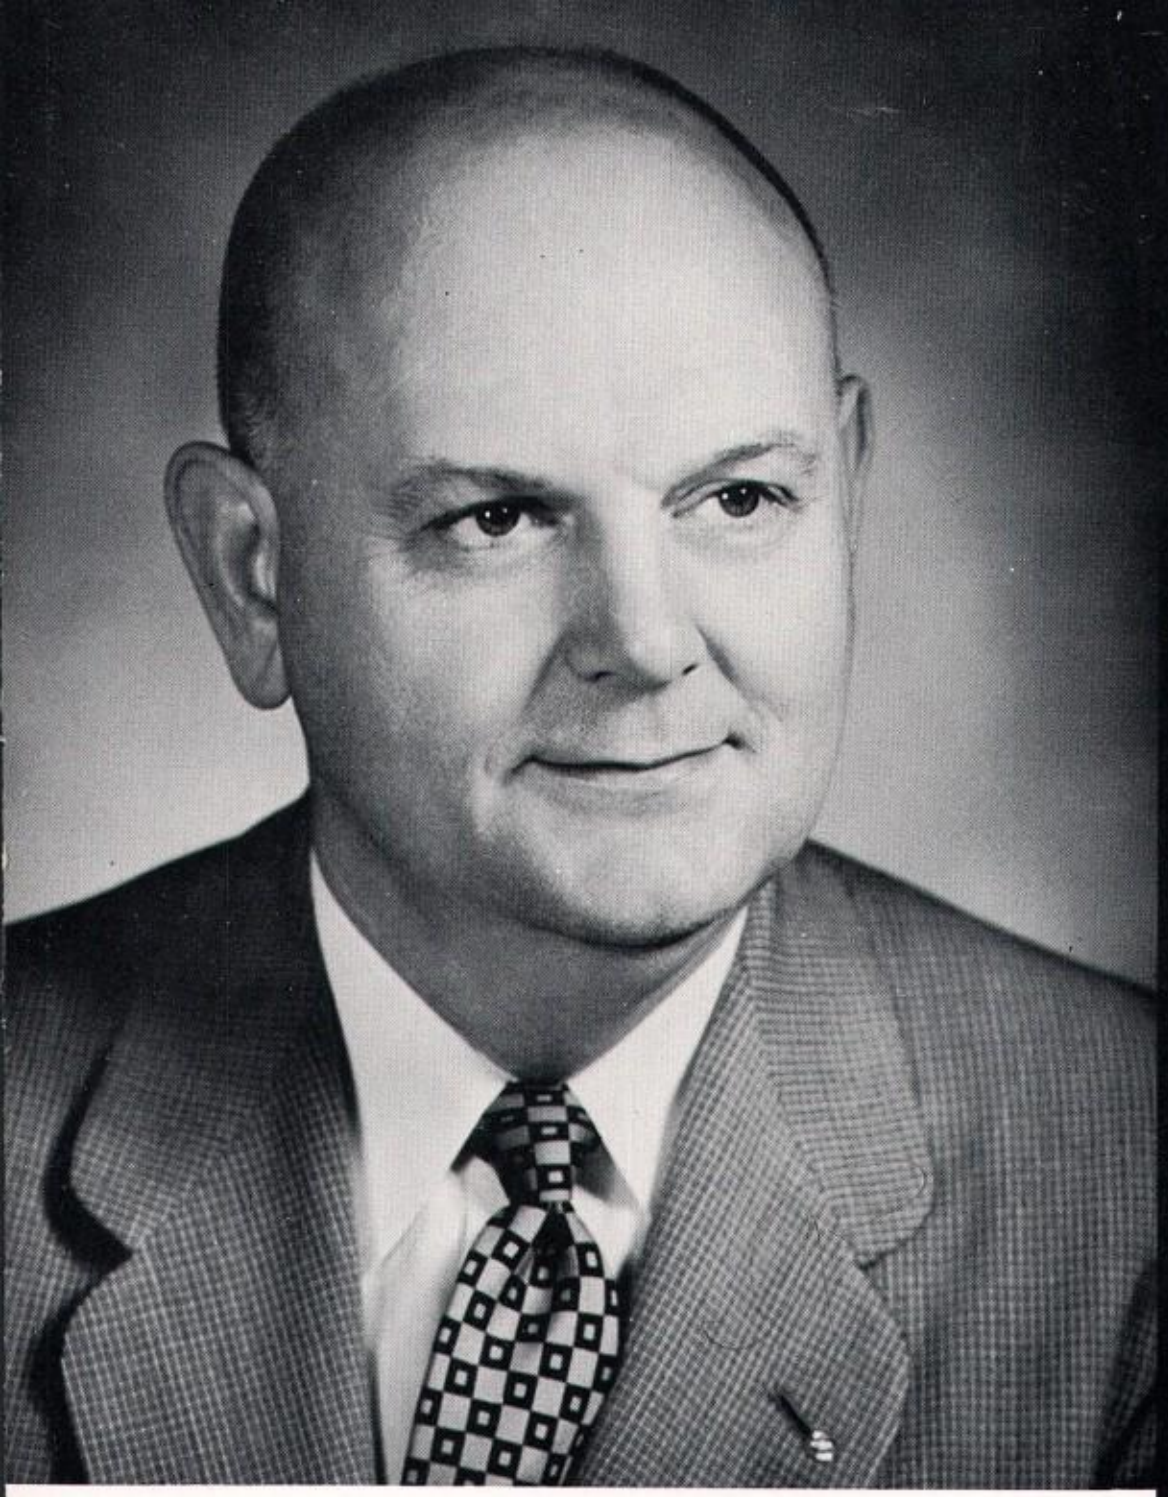
A report is given at a P.-T.A. meeting.

To promote a better relationship between the parents and teachers, the Parent-Teacher Association of Woodrow Wilson High School was organized soon after the September opening of school. The officers elected at the first meeting were: Mr. William Merrill, President; Mrs. Frank Thompson, Vice President; Mrs. Oscar Nero, Secretary; and Mr. Charles Gillet, Treasurer.

With the interest of the parents in mind, the board members selected the monthly programs. In December, following the regular meeting, the group attended the school Christmas program. January afforded the interesting program of "College Requirements and Scholarships." Miss Mildred Moyer, the school college adviser, spoke on the subject. An entertaining talent show was scheduled for the month of February. A panel including Mr. Warren, director of curriculum, a parent, a teacher, and a student discussed "High Achievement Classes," the topic for March. In April an "International" program was arranged with guests Miss Robin Strobel, Germany, and Miss Alva Brown, Mexico. As an introduction for the parents of the incoming sophomore class, the program in May was "Know Your School."

FACULTY



MAYNARD PONKO, Principal

To the students:

This is the first edition of the NOVA. We are proud to present it as a class record of the first Woodrow Wilson High School graduating class.

Nova is a symbol of the growth and development of each entering class which reaches its maximum performance and influence at graduation; then like a nova in the heavens, disperses to form new novae elsewhere. The process is repeated many times in a life time, but only once at the high school level.

The first record has been established for all to examine. It is with more than a nostalgic memory that the graduating class can evaluate its year's progress. It is with records of academic achievement, leadership growth, and many firsts that a new record has been established.

Our very best wishes accompany the first graduates of Woodrow Wilson High School.

Maynard Ponko

To the students:

The first year of Woodrow Wilson High School has ended with many fine accomplishments and much success. The reason for this has been the outstanding cooperation of both students and staff members. We especially owe a debt of thanks to the leaders of the senior class for setting the tempo and spirit of our new school. Never once did our teams lack the enthusiasm and support of the student body, even though we weren't always on the winning end of the score. During those early fall days just after school opened, we found ourselves short of chairs, desks, books, and teachers; but everyone was patient and understanding. Our road to a successful year has not always been joyous and easy, but the helpful attitude of both students and staff has been appreciated by everyone.

Very soon the members of our first graduating class will be finding new paths to follow. Some will continue their studies, some will enter the armed forces, some will begin working. Whatever path they choose we hope they will remember what we have learned from opening our school this year—that success and accomplishment come from patience, understanding, and cooperation. These qualities, combined with intelligence, will help all to live successfully in our world today and to be prepared for the tremendous social changes of tomorrow.

On Halloween Student Council held its first Campus Day. Students armed with shovels, rakes, and wheelbarrows set out to clear the school grounds of rocks and other debris. While some students raked, others washed windows. Two large holes were dug for trees, and thousands of bulbs were planted.

In spite of the pouring rain, students were out working in their jeans, rain hats, and slickers to get the schoolgrounds in order for the Dedication. Because the students were so willing to work, Student Council was proud of the success of Wilson's first Campus Day.

COUNCIL

Serving as Wilson's first governing body, Student Council devoted much of its time to organizing activities and projects for the student body. Student Council was composed of the officers who had been elected before the beginning of the school year. These officers were as follows: four student body officers — president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer; sophomore, junior, and senior class officers; songleaders; cheerleaders; and Girls' Club president. Members received two elective credits toward graduation for their year's work.

The first of council's activities was the Queen's Crown game and dance, the first in Tacoma's history. With student body funds, council purchased a crown and scepter, which were awarded to Wilson at the game because Wilson students had a higher activity ticket purchase percentage than Stadium.

One of Student Council's most important jobs was delegating days for projects so that no more than one project was on the same day. All posters hung at school were first passed through Student Council's poster committee. The sale of Woodrow Wilson bookcovers was Student Council's most important money-raising project. They also supervised the sale of Student-Faculty Basketball Game tickets.

Of a more serious nature was the composition of Wilson's constitution. Student Council members studied the United States Constitution and various high school constitutions, then compiled a constitution for Wilson with the help of roll room representatives. At the end of the year, Student Council held elections for next year's officers according to the new constitution.

Bulbs are planted in circular gardens.

"To give service for the betterment of the school and community, to develop a sense of friendship and unity among all girls, to inspire finer ideals of individual responsibility and service, to contribute to school spirit by inspiring thoughtfulness, loyalty, and honor in the girls of the student body" . . . this is the purpose of the Wilson Girls' Club.

Living up to this purpose were the members of the six Girls' Club committees: Decoration, Friendship, Program, Publicity, Service, and Social. Membership in one of these committees was available to each interested girl in the student body. The activities, projects and responsibilities were divided among these committees which worked as a unit under the guidance of Girls' Council.

Many worthwhile projects were sponsored by the Girls' Club committees this year. Among these were getting food for the welfare of indigent families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, sending get-well cards to ill students and teachers, giving birthday corsages to faculty members, and making monthly favors for teachers' desks. A new idea adopted was having women from various "old folks" homes in the community act as "grandmothers" to each committee.

To finance these projects it was necessary for Girls' Club to hold money-raising activities. Monthly bake sales, a candy-cane sale, Christmas corsage sales, and Thanksgiving Day Game program sales were among these activities. Money raised by these and other projects was used for the benefit of the school and student body.

Another important feature of Girls' Club's activity was the sponsoring of several "fun" and social projects. Some of these were the Valentine Tolo, the Mother/Daughter Tea, and the Cotton Carnival, which was held in April and marked the first day on which the girls of the student body blossomed forth in cottons.

Girls' Club had a very successful year, climaxed by the election of next year's officers. Many traditions were established which will benefit girls at Wilson in years to come.

Girls' Club Tolo Co-Chairmen, Judy Whitver and Carleen Alsbury, display the tickets for the dance.

Wiona members begin a hike across the Narrows Bridge.

Selling "Mums" at the Turkey Day Game, selling mistletoe at Christmas, and holding a splash party — these were some of the projects initiated by Wiona Girls' Athletic Association this year. The money collected from these projects was used to purchase athletic awards for the girls at the end of the year, and a gift for the school.

In November many work parties were held to make the ninety-six Mum corsages that were sold at the Wilson-Lincoln game on Thanksgiving. The mums were white, with a large red "W" in the center, and a blue ribbon backing. At Christmas Wiona members sold over one hundred packages of mistletoe to the student body, and friends and relatives.

Through playing team sports, participating in Doll-phins, marching with the Marching Team, swimming with girls' swim teams, girls could earn points for their athletic letters. Four team sports—basketball, volleyball, progressive dodgeball, and baseball were offered, as were hikes and after school plunges.

After a year of active participation in school activities and girls' sports, Wiona ended the year with the election of officers, and the presentation of athletic letters to all girls who had earned them. These awards were: first year, a chenile letter "W"; second year, a Wiona Club pin; and third year, a guard for the pin.

LETTERMEN

Lettermen's Club was a very active group this year at Wilson. Any boy who had earned a varsity letter was eligible for membership in the club, which met every Thursday. The officers of Lettermen's Club were Gary Feroglia, president; Mike Duppenthaler, secretary; Kermit Olson, vice-president; Nole West, treasurer; and Chuck Hunter, sergeant-at-arms.

One of the first orders of business was the selection of an official letter sweater. The sweaters which were selected were navy blue cardigans with red and white trim. Also, any senior letterman could get a navy blue jacket trimmed with a red and white Wilson emblem.

Lettermen performed many services around school. One such important service was the policing of the gym during basketball games. They also served at the Girls' Club Banquet to repay the girls who had served them at their football banquet.

Highlighting the year for Lettermen's Club was the Student-Faculty Basketball Game. This game, which will become an annual event, was held at the end of the regular basketball season. Athletically inclined male faculty members opposed senior members of Lettermen's Club who had received their letters in sports other than basketball. Following this game, Lettermen's Club and Wiona sponsored a dance in the cafeteria. Proceeds from this event contributed to paying off the student body debt.

During the installation ceremony, Varja officers tell of the goals of the group.

With service as a watchword and success as an ambition, Varja began its first year as Wilson's Girls' Honor Society.

Scheduled first on the year's calendar was the initiation of sixteen new members on October 24. The members were accepted on a basis of grade point average and points earned through services to the school. Continuing acts of service such as ushering at the Dedication and the English Teachers' Convention, serving at the football banquet, and aiding the faculty with the teachers' teas kept the girls active throughout the year.

Helping to enliven Yuletide spirit, Varja members made Christmas corsages for the women faculty and put decorative bouquets of fur boughs bedecked with little colored glass balls on the desks of men instructors.

In addition to the many incidental events in which Varja participated, the girls unendingly greeted visitors at the door at home games and promoted the sale of basketball programs. The funds supplied by the sale of these programs joined the proceeds from the red, white, and blue pom pom sale held during football season. One of the more exciting and interesting projects was the running of a pop and hot dog booth at the Girls' Club Carnival, April 10th.

As the year ended, Varja members, identified by a white blouse, red grograin ribbon, navy blue skirt and blue and white checked jerkin, still could be seen going from room to room, adding a touch of fragrance to the building in the form of spring bouquets.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Over sixty students became charter members of Wilson's Chapter of the National Honor Society after completing the membership requirements. These requirements included being selected by a faculty committee consisting of the two school counselors, the two club advisers, and having good scholarship, leadership, service and character, and being a junior or a senior with a 3.5 accumulative grade point average.

To remain a member, students had to maintain the qualities necessary to become a member. Members who did not maintain at least a 3.4 accumulative average each semester, were dropped from membership.

By selling beanies to students, Pep Club members helped to create the enthusiasm and awareness that was evident at Wilson this year. Organized cheering sections and busses to out-of-town games throughout the year also helped to instil school spirit.

A week before Thanksgiving, the club sponsored Pep Week. The student body gathered at a Pep Rally to burn in effigy the Lincoln Lynx in a blazing bonfire. Following the bonfire, a dance was held in the cafeteria where the Pep Queen, Susan Breon and her two attendants, Carol Hibbard and Elisa Peterson, were crowned to reign over the remaining Pep Week festivities.

As a service to the community, Pep Club members carolled at Christmas time, bringing the Christmas spirit to Wilson's neighbors. At the end of the year Pep Club rendered service to the school by a contest in which a prize was awarded to the student who submitted the song which became the official school song.

Maynard I. is introduced to the student body.

After the Associated Students of Wilson elected the Ram as its mascot, Carsten's Meat Packing Company donated a live ram to Wilson. The ram, christened Maynard I in honor of Wilson's principal, Maynard Ponko, made his debut in October during an outdoor pep assembly.

Making his first game appearance at the West Bremerton football game in Bremerton, Maynard encouraged the school spirit so evident at Wilson this year. After appearing at the classic Turkey Day game, where he was wildly applauded, Maynard returned to his quarters at Carsten's to await calls for other appearances and write letters of encouragement to the student body and the team. These letters appeared in the BANNER and were enthusiastically read by the students.

"Resolved: That the public elementary and secondary educational system of the United States should be fundamentally revised" was the topic of debate for the 1958-59 debate season. Debate Club held several practice debates with other local high schools, and entered into league debates which lead to tournaments at Pacific Lutheran College and the College of Puget Sound. The students attending these tournaments participated in debate and in forensic activities that included impromptu speaking, extemporaneous speaking, interpretative reading, oratory, and after dinner speaking.

In November, the club sent several delegates to the Pacific Lutheran College Student Congress, the only student congress of its kind in the world. Each student went through an entire day like that a Congressman's. In the spring, debate letters were awarded to all members having participated in debates at tournaments during the year. Installation of officers for the ensuing year completed the club's affairs.

MATH CLUB

Furtherance of mathematical knowledge was the purpose of Math Club. This club met every Tuesday. Mr. Goman of C.P.S. led the discussions which covered such subjects as the philosophies of mathematics. The club based its discussions on Sawyer's Prelude to Mathematics, often dwelling on such subjects as non-Euclidean concepts of geometry.

Membership in Math Club was based on an interest in higher mathematics. Although most of the members of the club were mathematics students, it was unnecessary to have a math class. Members gained a knowledge of many different mathematical concepts which they would not have received in class.

CAMERA CLUB

Girls try developing pictures.

Camera Club, composed of students interested in photographic equipment and technique, met every two weeks with club advisor, Mr. Hora. These amateur shutter-bugs practiced photographic techniques on several field trips and studied different types of photographic equipment and methods of film development.

CIRRUS SCRAPERS

The formation of Cirrus Scrapers added a new dimension to high school acivities this year. The Flying Club was incorporated shortly before Christmas. The members then bought an Aranka Champion airplane, financing the project entirely by themselves.

Mr. De Von Edrington, the club advisor, states, "When the club gets on its feet in a year or two I hope to train twenty-five to thirty-five students each year so that they may earn their private licenses." Students will not be the only ones given an opportunity to fly, though. Members of the faculty will also be able to train for their flyers' licenses.

Wilson students who were interested in art appreciation formed the Art Club this year. Mr. Phillips, head of the art department, was the club's advisor.

Meeting twice monthly, club members listened to artists from the Tacoma area, visited art museums, and entered original works in several contests. Also, some members joined the Tacoma Junior Art League. Art Club's major money-raising project was the sale of Wilson stickers, which may now be seen adorning cars and notebooks.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

By reciting the Florence Nightengale Pledge in a candlelight ceremony October twenty-second, thirty girls became official members of Future Nurses Club. This was the beginning of the year's activities which served to bring about a greater knowledge of the medical profession to girls with a sincere interest in nursing.

Trips to three local hospitals, the Public Health Center, and the University of Washington School of Medicine provided the girls with a new insight into their future vocation, as did speeches given by Army and Navy nurses who stressed the importance of personal health and welfare.

Future Nurse's Club members demonstrate first aid skills.

Although Caelo members worked as a unit, four individual groups met bi-weekly at the Y.W.C.A. to plan projects and participate in them throughout the year.

CAELO SEM-FI: Sem-Fi members, too, held a bake sale. In a joint project with Caelo Tri-Zels, Sem-Fi sponsored an ice-skating party. Included in Sem-Fi's "fun" projects were a speaker who informed them of the proper use of cosmetics, and a party with a Hi-Y group from another school.

CAELO ADELPHONS: During the year Adelphon members sold Christmas candy and held the conventional bake sale to raise funds for the group. For fun, Adelphons had a mother-daughter meeting in October and a beach party in May.

ROW 1: J. Myers, G. Hinds, J. Cimino, Inter-Club Representative; C. Cornell, Vice President; J. Barrick, President; C. Fewell, Treasurer; B. Bruns, D. Dague. ROW 2: J. Butler, J. Watland, C. Grinnell, M. Mueller, L. Bosnick, C. Anderson. ROW 5: A. Tveter, B. Zeh.

A Christmas party, a service project, a Recognition Service in February for all members, a father-daughter banquet, and the first annual Daffodil Tolo were the projects initiated by Caelo during this, its first year.

During its formative months, the group strove to establish traditions and to familiarize the members with the goals of the Y.W.C.A. After the sophomore girls became members, in February, more emphasis was placed on the individual group activities. In May activities came to a close with a banquet honoring the seniors. At this banquet the newly elected officers were installed.

CAELO TRI-FI: At one of Tri-Fi's first meetings a stewardess spoke, informing the girls of the qualifications of a stewardess. Tri-Fi held a very successful bake sale and a pop bottle drive. A pary with a Hi-Y group and a slumber party rounded out the activities for the year.

Plans for the year were adopted in September after Caelo officers were elected and members had divided into four auxiliary groups to elect their own officers. The president of each group, the inter-club representatives who represented the small groups in an all city council, and Caelo officers comprised the Presidents' Council which governed the auxiliary groups.

KLAHANIE

The big event for this, one of the largest clubs at school, was the trip to Mount Baker during Spring Vacation. About thirty members made the overnight trip by bus. A break in the weather added to the festive spirit of the group.

Ski trips were not the only business of this active organization. Prior to, and during the ski season various experienced skiers spoke to the group. In accordance with good teaching methods, another dimension was provided through motion pictures and slides. These provided good visual picture of right and wrong ways to ski as well as safety factors, first aid, and other helpful hints for the beginner and the veteran skier.

Klahanie members formed the Wilson Ski Team. These skiers: Barry Bodhaine, Dick Kohler, Dale Cooley, John Rucker, Jerry Snow, Phil Radcliffe, Lincoln Wolverton; formed a team which won many honors for Wilson during the year. Wilson skiers Dale Cooley, Phil Radcliffe and John Rucker placed first, second, and fourth, respectively, in the Tacoma Day event.

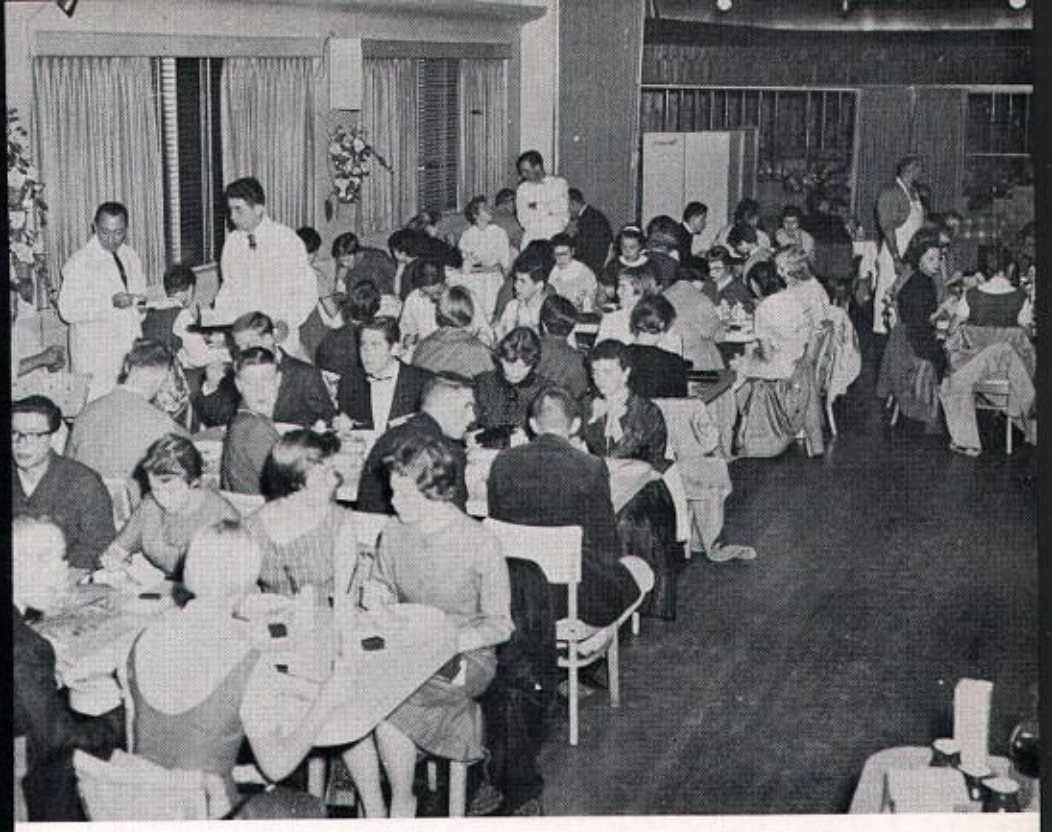
SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Booster CLUB Dinner

Service, please!

String music accompanies the feast.



Students enjoy the ham dinner.

Local business men act as chefs.

Ham dinner with all the trimmings, free; city businessmen in aprons, paying $20 for the privilege of serving; and the population of Wilson High invading the Towers Restaurant constituted the Booster Dinner held on October 12.

Woodrow Wilson Booster Club was the name given to the Tacoma businessmen who came to the aid of the Wilson athletic fund. This fund which is supported only by the sale of activity tickets and must provide money for equipment for a year, had run up a sizeable debt.

By paying $20 each to serve as waiters for Wilson's 1400 students, Booster Club members, who remained anonymous, helped to pay Wilson's debt. Ham, potatoes, peas, rolls, milk and ice cream were donated so that all students who had activity tickets could enjoy a free meal.

ROLL ROOM

GIRLS' CLUB REPRESENTATIVES: Meeting before important Girls' Club activities, the Girls' Club roll room representatives helped keep their rolls informed of the Girls' Club projects. During the Thanksgiving and the Christmas food and clothing drives, these forty girls collected the donations in the roll rooms and helped pack them in boxes which were then delivered to needy families.

RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVES: During the early part of the semester, Red Cross Representatives led a membership drive so that all Wilson students could enroll in the Junior Red Cross. Later in the year the representatives collected gifts which were packed in a Good Will Chest and sent to Europe.

ACTIVITY MANAGERS: During September a member from each home room was elected to be an activity manager. Whenever it was necessary to personally contact the student body an activity managers' meeting was called by Student Council. It was the activity manager's duty to keep his roll room informed of the activities presented by Student Council.

SAVINGS MANAGERS: Elected in roll at the beginning of each semester, savings managers were in charge of collecting student deposits for the School Savings Program. They saw that the savings envelopes were collected and turned in to the office Tuesday morning during roll.

P.-T.A. REPRESENTATIVES: Acquainting the students of Woodrow Wilson High School with the activities of their Parent-Teacher Association was the main goal of the P.-T.A. Representatives. New ideas concerning P.-T.A. were explained to students in their roll rooms, and in turn the students brought these ideas home to their parents.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS: "May I help you?" . . . These cheerful words, accompanied by a friendly smile, greeted those people who needed help or information from the main office. Under direction of Miss Bernice Christensen, the main office personnel efficiently executed the many tasks necessary to the smooth operation of school activities. Among these duties were taking telephone messages, running errands, and assisting with the upkeep of files and records.

ATTENDANCE AND NURSE'S ASSISTANTS: In the attendance office, helping Mrs. Lora laiber, girls collected attendance slips and compiled each day's absentee list. There were also girls assisting Mrs. Ethel Stamatakis, the school nurse. They served as receptionists and aided her in her many duties, including checking eyes, ears, heights, and weights of new students.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS: To aid Mrs. Floramae Phillips, head librarian, and Mrs. Kathryn Guernsey, her assistant, twenty-four students worked as library assistants this year. While completing ten lessons pertaining to library procedure, the assistants, who devoted one period a day to working in the library, shelved books, mended them when the need arose, and prepared new books for display.

STAGE CREW: Although Wilson does not, as of yet, have a stage, a group of boys were organized to act as a stage crew in the gymnasium which was used as a makeshift auditorium. These boys were in charge of setting up scenery when it was required, running the phonograph, and adjusting the volume of the microphone during assemblies.

AUDIO-VISUAL ASSISTANTS: Distributing audio-visual equipment, instructing in the use of the equipment, and operating the equipment were the activities of the Wilson High Audio-Visual crew this year. Under the supervision of Mr. Carol Otterson, coordinator of audio-visual equipment, some thirteen boys worked with teachers, the athletic department, and several clubs in providing films, recordings, and other aides for their use.

LUNCHROOM ASSISTANTS: Helping to keep the lunch room clean was one of the many duties performed by the Lunchroom Assistants this year. Working all three lunches, the assistants also sold milk and ice cream in the lunchroom store, helped serve hot lunches, and aided in dish washing.

Lunch room assisants sell milk and ice cream to hungry students.

So that they would be prepared for football season when it arrived, the Marching Band began its year as the football players did, turning out early before school started. At all home football games during the year the Marching Band provided half-time entertainment.

In addition to providing half-time entertainment, the band played at pep assemblies, fooball games, and basketball games. At pep assemblies the band played Wilson's school song and other pep songs for which the song leaders had routines.

Our band received recognition for fine performances. Some awards were: the second place trophy from the Santa Claus parade held in Seattle; Lise Nero's representation in the "All Northwest Band"; and the band's marching in Tacoma's Daffodil Parade.

Among the many programs which followed was the Chrismas Assembly at which the Nutcracker Suite was presented. The choir provided the background music for ballet of the Nutcracker Suite. Both Mary Lynn Anderson and Rod Rosenbladt had solos in the program. After the assembly the choir gave the same performance at the Winthrop Hotel and again over the radio. The choir also participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contest on February 14th.

In the spring the choir was again very busy. The first spring performance was on Easter morning at the Sunrise Service which was enjoyed by the early risers. The last performance of the year was the Spring Festival, which was attended by the students and the public.

Six months prior to opening night, a committee which consisted of the senior class cabinet and a play committe, selected "Ladies of the Jury," a humorous three-act play as their class presentation. Auditions were held and the cast selected from over fifty aspirants. Rehearsals were held every night after school until the April opening date.

All the hard work and careful planning paid off when the enthusiastically received "Ladies of the Jury" played to its first live audience and received an enthusiastic ovation from the full house.

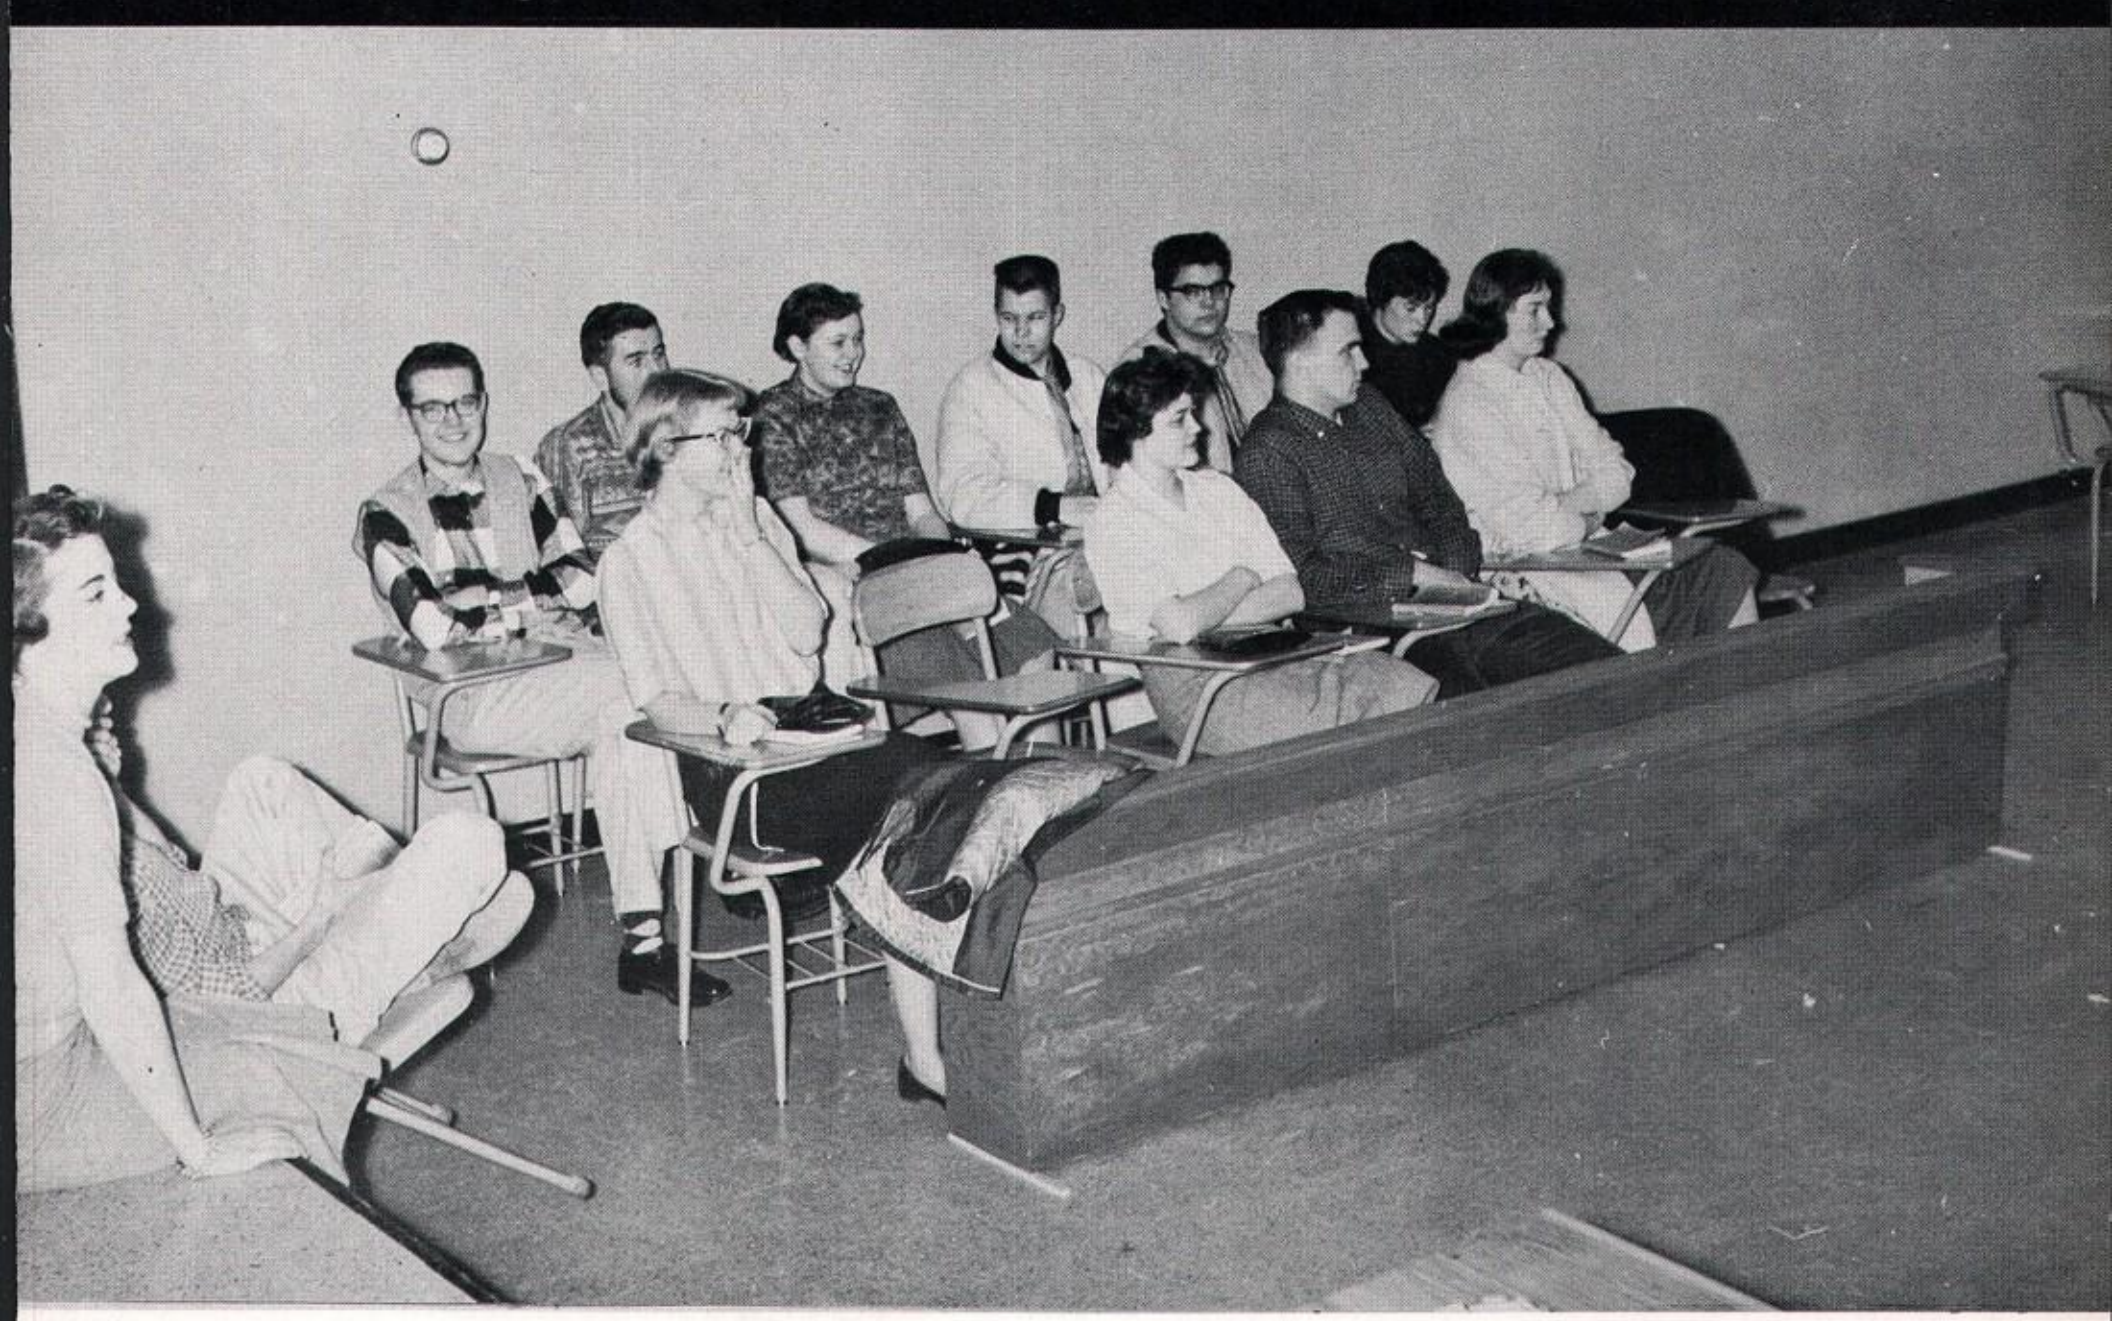
ARTS

Adding to Wilson's school spirit throughout the year Mr. Philips and his art classes made many posters to advertise various school projects and meetings. There was not an activity at Wilson that was not supported by the art department.

The art department, endeavoring to further the students' interest in art did various types of painting. One of the more creative of these was painting to music. As the mood of music changed art students painted their reaction to the music.

Artisic talent, however, was not limited to the art department only. Many teachers throughout the building are talented painters and sculptors.



Members of the jury rehearse for the Senior Play.

Meeting deadlines, writing stories, dummying pages, and maintaining scholastic standards were some of the daily activities of this year's Banner staff. The staff began their work the first day of school with the facilities of a new and modern journalism room. With the aid of Mr. Don Shaff, advisor, the first accomplishment of the staff was the choosing of a name for Wilson's newspaper. The name Banner was chosen in order to coincide with Wilson's colors — red, white and blue.

The main objectives of the staff when writing stories were to keep improving headlines and to maintain a good caliber of writing. Many hours were spent at school and at the South Tacoma Star Printers pasting dummies and improving headlines.

The small fall staff, headed by Sandy Taylor, editor, originated such articles as "On the Rampage," the sports article; "Wilson Wonders," stories about outstanding seniors; "Food for Thought," the lunch menu; and "Tiger Pause," articles about Stadium High School.

Nova, meaning a bright new star ever increasing in brightness, was chosen as the name of Wilson's yearbook. Since Wilson High School is a new school and will ever increase in acivities, the staff found this name very appropriate.

During the summer the staff met to plan the theme of Wilson's first yearbook and to think of an appropriate name for the book. In the fall the staff organized and published Wilson's first telephone directory, the LIVE WIRE, in which every student's name, phone number, and address can be found.

Even while the staff was busy publishing the LIVE WIRE, the editors of each section were hard at work. Each section was planned and "dummied," copy was written and measured, and pictures were taken. Many pictures for the yearbook were taken and developed by staff members.

As the final deadline came at the end of March the staff found itself working late after school and on Saturdays putting the final touches on the NOVA. As a final result of fun mixed with hard work the NOVA staff presents Wilson's first annual, The 1959 NOVA.

Dear Brent,

It sure has been fun this year at Wilson and having you in my typing class. You sure a kick. Wait until we're seniors that's sure going to be a ball. (Hope I pass this year) Can't say typing was my favorite class but Bill tried. Hope to see you this summer and have a good time. Loads of Luck to you in the future, you deserve the best.

When Tacoma Councilman Paul Perdue announced, "Stadium . . . 71 percent, Woodrow Wilson . . . 84 percent" he crowned Karen Purchase Queen of Tacoma's first Queen's Crown game. Wilson was the winner of a month long activity sales contest with Stadium, so for a year the trophy case in the gym will display the trophy, the Queen's Crown and the sceptor.

In November the student body looked forward to the Turkey Day Game. Highlighting the activities of Pep Week before the game with Lincoln was the crowning of Pep Queen Susan Breon and her attendants Carole Hibbard and Elisa Petterson who reigned at the game and at the dance the night before.

Lucky number twenty-five belonged to John Rucker and Barbara Bagley on February 6th. Chosen in a drawing during intermission at the Girls' Club Tolo, John and Barbara reigned as King and Queen of Hearts at the Valentine affair.

Spring brought daffodils and he Daffodil Festival. Lani Torre, chosen for her poise, charm, character, and personality, represented Wilson in the 1959 Daffodil Festival. After a month of activities Lani and the other eleven princesses rode on the lead float in the Daffodil Parade.

On April 4th as the lights dimmed, undercurrents of excitement prevailed when a voice announced, "Our Caelo Daffodil Tolo Court this year consists of Barbara Leonard, Sophomore Attendant; Elaine Johnson, Junior Attendant; and . . . Betty Marr, Queen."

Never will we forget our own MAYNARD the First!

Joining the Capital League this year, the Wilson Rams were cheered on by an enthusiastic student body as the team won six games, lost three, and placed fourth in Capital League football.

Wilson's debut in the football scene was the 16th annual Grid-Go-Round at Lincoln Bowl. The Rams dominated the play in the first ten minute game against Bellarmine, but not until the clock showed 1:10 did halfback Kerm Olson find a hole over right tackle and carry the ball the final ten yards to score Wilson's first touchdown. Fullback Wayne Pavlic plunged over the middle for the extra point, giving Wilson a 7-0 win over the Bells. In the first eleven plays of the fourth game Lincoln scored against the Rams, making the score 7-0. The Rams began a 63 yard march in 12 plays to score a touchdown by Wayne Pavlic, but he was stopped on the 1 yard line when he tried for the extra point. The game ended 7-6 in favor of the Abes, and Wilson finished second place in its first Grid-Go-Round.

One week later the Wilson Rams traveled to Olympia for their first Capital League game. The Rams fought with determination throughout the game but were unable to compete with the Olympia Bears' good ground game and alert defense. The game ended 12-0 in favor of Olympia.

On the following Friday Wilson used its winged T offense in a surprise 7-6 victory over the Lincoln Abes. Wilson received the ball on the opening kick off, and sophomore quarterback Terry Parker scored the touchdown after Wilson had marched 70 yards in 15 plays to Lincoln's 5 yard line. Olson caught Parker's pass in the end zone to win the extra point. Lincoln scored a touchdown in the second quarter, but their badly needed extra point was blocked by Pavlic, Velkers, and Pullin. Wilson kept the pressure on during the second half, and the Rams won their first Capital and City League game.

Following the exciting upset over Lincoln, the Rams traveled to play another new member in the Capital League: West Bremerton. The Wildcats dominated the entire game and won by a score of 33 to 7.

One week later Wilson and Stadium were foes in the first annual Queen's Crown game at Lincoln Bowl. The Stadium Tigers couldn't handle the outstanding running of Kerm Olson and Ed Menotti and the power plunges of Wayne Pavlic in the offensive game that ended with a score of 26-13 in favor of Wilson.

The Rams traveled to Bremerton again, but this time to play East Bremerton. This trip was a successful one, for the final score was 21-6 in favor of the Rams.

At the end of the Bellarmine game the next week, Woodrow Wilson had won its first athletic title: City League Champions. The next week's game between Wilson and Aberdeen at Lincoln Bowl found the Rams on the losing end with a score of 21-0. One week later the Rams held the Centralia Tigers scoreless in a muddy, wet football game. Early in the second period when the Rams marched 73 yards for the touchdown, Ed Menotti scrambled through the middle to make the only score of the game.

Two weeks later the Wilson Rams met Lincoln in the annual Turkey Day game, the last game of the season. The excellent defensive play of the Rams and the tremendous punting of Noel West made this one of the most exciting games ever played in the Lincoln Bowl. The two teams fought for a touchdown to prevent a 0-0 deadlock. The touchdown finally came. With only 55 seconds left, Wilson's Gary Feroglia captured a Lincoln fumble in the end-zone for 6 points. The kick was completed to make the final score 7-0 — a victory for the Rams in their first Turkey Day game.

During their five-game season, the reserve football team was under the direction of coaches Sinkovich and Stortini.

Playing Clover Park in their first game, Wilson was defeated by a score of 12 to 7. Chuck Hunter made the first touchdown of the season during this game. Next the reserves met Lincoln and won the game by a score of 8-6. Halfback Bruce Larson scored the touchdown and made a two-point safety to win the game for Wilson.

In the next two games, the Rams beat Stadium by a score of 27-7, and toppled Clover Park 13-7. In their last game the reserves lost to Puyallup by a score of 33-7, ending the year with a record of three wins and two losses.

Coached by Mr. Wright and Mr. Sinkovich, the first sophomore football team of Wilson High School played the sophomore teams of Clover Park, Lincoln, Stadium, and Bellarmine.

Although Wilson was on the shorter end of their 2-5 record, many potential varsity players were developed during the season. Halfback Larry Kurmel was a good offensive player, and backfielder Jim Blackburn proved good on offense. Other outstanding players were fullback Dan Mullen, and Bill Simons and Mike Stauffer, ends.

SKIING

Practicing for the ski season, a skier starts down a Paradise slope.

As the winter season approached, anxious skiers began anticipating the arrival of enough snow to begin another year of skiing. Through wind, rain, and snow the skiers attending the annual ski school bravely fought to master all the niceties of skiing from the beginner's snowplow to the expert's christy. During the season many novices acquired a love of skiing and a mastery of many skills.

Wilson was represented in all area ski meets by the Wilson Ski Team, coached by Mr. Berge. This year also brought the beginning of a girls' ski team. Wilson was represented, too, by students participating in the outings sponsored by Klahanie, the Wilson Ski Club. As the season drew to a close the outings were remembered, and plans for next year were made with great anticipation.

SWIMMING

State and city swimming records were broken, set, and rebroken as the Wilson Varsity Swim Team, coached by Mr. Richard Hannula, captured the City and Capital League Championships and finished second in the state swim meet at the University of Washington.

At the opening of the swimming season the Rams' Relay, inviational swim mee, brought the leading swim teams of Western Washington to our pool for an exciting meet that ended with Wilson scoring 55 points, just 3 points behind the winning Everett team.

The watermen captured supremacy of Tacoma waters in their first official meet, when they took first place over Lincoln and Stadium. At their next meet the varsity navigated themselves past the East and West Bremerton teams but were stopped the following week by the more experienced University of Washington Frosh Swim Club.

On January 16 the Wilson Rams defeated the Everett Eagles, defending state champions, in one of the closest swim meets of the year. At the end of the ninth event the score was announced as 40-39 in favor of Everett. It took 1:44.7 seconds for our 200-yard freestyle relay team, including Noel West, John Galbraith, Mel Wick, and John Jewell to add seven points, making the final score 46-40 in favor of Wilson.

The Aberdeen meet started a winning streak for the watermen. On the following week Olympia, Aberdeen, and Mt. Vernon were trounced by the varsity swimmers. In the Pacific Northwest meet January 31, many Wilson swimmers exhibited outstanding skill. Byron Stauffer took first place in the 100 yard free style with a time of :54.3 and finished second in the boys' 200 yard free style.

Following the A.A.U. meet Wilson, Stadium, and Lincoln met in the Wilson pool for the second city swim meet. The Rams set four of the six city records to win the City championship. East and West Bremerton then fell to the mighty Wilson Rams in another tri-school meet, and Aberdeen was given a second defeat on the following week.

On Saturday, February 21, seven Capital League schools met at the Wilson pool for the league swim meet. Wilson and Olympia were tied for first place in league standings. At the end of the meet the Rams had broken the tie by beating the Olympia Bears. Thus ended the Capital League race with Wilson holding the Capital League championship. Several state records were broken including the 200 yard free style broken by Byron Stauffer in 2:04.0, and the 200 yard free style relay broken by John Jewell, Gary Dyer, Byron Stauffer, and Mike Stauffer with a time of 1:39.1.

Competing in the state meet, Wilson was led to second place by Captain Jack Paul. The Rams made an excellent showing but the defending state champions, the Everett Eagles, captured the title for a second year. Three state meet records were made by Wilson swimmers. Byron Stauffer broke the 50 yard free style with a :23.5 time and the 100 yard free style in :52.8. A new 200 yard free style relay record was broken by Dave Finholm, John Galbraith, John Jewell, and Ron England with a time of 1:41.4.

The reserve swim team practiced after school under the direction of Mr. Dick Hannula. The entire reserve squad proved themselves good prospects for the future varsity team. Richard Hitch, Woody Davis, Roy Mesler, Bill Streeter, and Pat Waters displayed great skill in the many different swimming events. Larry Huff gained recognition for his diving by winning the honor of exhibition diving in several of the varsity meets.

RESERVE SWIMMING

In the fall about thirty boys and girls, under the instruction of Mr. Richard Hannula, began learning the fundamentals of water life-saving. The time spent in instruction was an hour per day for two weeks. After passing a final test, the students were awarded Senior Life Saving certificates.

In the spring another opportunity for instruction was given to those who had missed the first session. Students who received their life saving certificates were qualified to guard the pool during the many swimming sessions held there.

WATER BALLET

Giving the appearance of a perfectly synchronized kaliedascope, Doll-Phins, Wilson's girls' form swimming group, presented their first water show, "It's in the Cards," to an audience of approximately seven hundred people.

Under the direction of Mrs. Helen Simmons, these water maids practiced for the show after school for five months. Eligibility to swim in the show was based on a given standard test. Each girl was compelled to pass thirty-two skills of increasing difficulty. At the end of this period, the girls dressed themselves in colorful costumes portraying various card games to carry out the theme of the show.

Puyallup was the first opponent of the Wilson varsity, but the Vikings took the match 35-13. On the following week the matmen were defeated for a second ime by the Bethal squad. Jerry Cunningham, Gary Woodworth, Jim McCall, and Ed Menotti brought home the only victories, and Larry Levy drew, giving a 35-14 victory to Bethal.

After losing to the Lincoln Abes, the Ram matmen met West Bremerton, scoring an overwhelming first victory for Wilson. The match ended 43 points for the Rams to the Wildcats' 8 points. Franklin Pierce was then downed by the grapplers, 33-19. After successive losses to Lake Washington, Olympia, and Stadium the Rams met East Bremerton for their final match before the district tournament. The matmen won the mach 30-20, with Larry Saxon, Jim McCall, and Ed Menotti pinning their opponents.

Replacing Clover Park in the traditional Hoop-Go-Round this year, the Rams saw their first action in a two quarter game against the Lincoln Abes. Lincoln won with a score of 35-21. In the third game Wilson was downed 35-21 by Bellarmine which put the Rams in fourth place.

On the following Tuesday Wilson played Foster in the Wilson gym. This game, like so many others to follow, was an evenly contested one. The Rams led by five points at the end of the first quarter, but in the final minutes of the game the Foster Bulldogs jumped to a lead of 48-41 and won.

Exhibiting vast improvement, the Wilson Rams fought with determination to win their first victory by beating O'Dea of Seattle 62-49. O'Dea appeared to be too much for Wilson as the Irish scored a 21-11 lead in the first quarter. But by the half-time the Rams scrambled to within two points of the O'Dea team's score. In the third and fourth quarters Wilson outscored the Irish 18-8 and 14-9 to win 62-49. Plancich was high with 23 points, Bud Reed scored 12, and Jim Lane and Kerm Olson tied with 10 points each.

The Wilson Hoopsters were guests at the Clover Park homecoming but were handed a 62-49 defeat by the triumphant Warriors. In the next game forward Kerm Olson and center Jerry Plancich kept Pat Halstead, six feet 10 inch East Bremerton center, down to only 15 points in a close action-packed game. The two teams were within a couple of baskets apart during the entire game, and not until the remaining three minutes of the fourth quarter did the highly rated Knights spark to win the tussle 59-49.

A high-soaring East Bremerton defender fails to stop Jim Lane's shot.

Playing at the C.P.S. Fieldhouse, the Rams met the Lincoln Lynx in the second game of a City League double header. The Railsplitters proved still too much competition for Wilson, and they won 57-41. On the following week Aberdeen downed Wilson 52-33.

In a thrilling overtime battle Wilson almost edged out Stadium in a close City and Capital League nip and tuck struggle. With four seconds remaining, forward Jim Johnson of Stadium tipped in the tying two points, sending the game into overtime. The three minute overtime period ended with Stadium on top and the score 43-39. Although the Rams lost, the Woodrow Wilson players displayed tremendous skill in this game.

Following a game in which the Olympia Bears topped the scoreboard 52-42, Wilson met Bellarmine on the Rams' own court. The first half featured low scorings and low percentages, and at halftime the Lions edged Wilson 6-4. The game opened up into a real thriller in the second half, and on the final sound of the klaxon the Rams had won their first City League game, 45-38. Lincoln then fell to the Wilson varsity 48-49, bouncing the Rams into second place in the City League.

Tense excitement is reflected on the faces of the Wilson and Lincoln players as the Rams pull away to win 49-48 in an exciting double-header at C. P. S.

Stopping Wilson's winning streak, the Stadium Tigers trounced the Rams 54-32, and the highly rated West Bremerton Wildcats crept past Wilson 40-32. Because the games were closer than the scores indicate, the Wilson Rams kept in high spirits and beat East Bremerton 50-41.
The next week saw Wilson playing Bellarmine in two close and exciting City League tilts. The Lions took the first game 43-41, but on the following Saturday, plagued by illness, the Rams topped the scoreboard 49-41 before a surprised and happy student body. Kerm Olson and Larry Jerdal both scored a dozen points, and Don Hagen, who came up from the reserves as a substitute picked off an impressive ten points.

Following Capital League losses to Aberdeen, Stadium, and Olympia, the Wilson hoopmen met the West Bremerton Wildcats who took the hassle 43-40. Playing in their last basketball game, the Rams were not able to stop the Lincoln Abes who won 45-32.
At the end of the season the team members chose Bud Reed as captain and Kerm Olson as Inspirational Award winner.

ROW 1: D. Huffar, W. McIntyre, B. Morris, D. Peters. ROW 2: D. DiLoreto, B. Porter, G. Thompson.

Woodrow Wilson's first reserve basketball team participated in a close Capital League race, finally tying for second place in the Capital League and first place in the City League. Coached by Mr. Dan Inveen, the junior varsity beat every team in the Capital League at least once. The squad's record was 11 wins, and 9 losses.

During the season several members won the honor of playing in varsity games. Because all of the reserve players were sophomores and juniors, Mr. Marv Scott, varsity coach, will be using many of the reserves on his varsity team next year.

Two sophomore basketball teams, the Reds, coached by Mr. Robert Wright, and the Blues, coached by Mr. John Sinkovich, were organized at Wilson this year.

Both teams were plagued by inexperience and the additional handicap of losing several of their players to the varsity squad. For these reasons the teams did not make an outstanding record, but the team members did improve as the season progressed and many players developed skills which they will be able to use as future varsity players. The Reds finished with a 1-12 record, while the Blues had a 3-10 record.

During March fifty boys vied for positions on the varsity baseball team. Terry Parker, Bob Abelsett, and Gary Thompson offered Jim Cunningham intersquad competition for the pitcher slots.

Opening the season, the diamond men met Clover Park at Heidelberg Park. The Warriors took advantage of the Rams' weak pitching, and Clover Park took the opener. Following a defeat dealt to the Rams by the Puyallup Vikings, Wilson met the Stadium Tigers at Jefferson Park for a City and Capital League baseball game. The enthusiasm of the Wilson squad held the Tigers until the fifth inning when Stadium broke the 3-3 tie. Wilson out hit Stadium 10-6, but the Rams could muster only three runs to Stadiums' five. Wilson runs were scored in the third and fourth quarters. Bill Zenk's long double accounted for a pair of tallies in the third inning, and Kerm Olson scored after tripling in Wilson's half of the fourth. Sophomore Gary Dyer made his pitching debut, striking out seven and walking only three.

Wilson met Olympia for a double-header at Heidelberg Park. The Rams took the first game 5-0, but narrowly lost the second game by a 12-11 decision. Wilson scored two runs in the fifth inning when Chris Cherbas and Larry Kurmel picked up the statistics. Bill Zenk doubled to drive in a run in the first frame, then doubled again in the third, scoring on a single by Cherbas. Olympia scored first in the second game and was never ahead again until the seventh period. Wilson threatened in the bottom of the seventh, with two outs Jim Warter and Larry Kurmel singled, but the big hit didn't come.

"Wham—wham—Crash!" "One point for the blues," rang out as girls turned out for volleyball after school during February, March and April. Long, conscientious practice proved worth while, for the Rams won their Aberdeen opener with Bob Morris scoring 75 in the match. On the following week Bob Morris shot an even par of 71 to win medalist honors as the Rams topped Stadium 9½-5½ in a duel match. During the next week the Rams traveled to Olympia to meet the Bears and returned with another victory added to their record.

Lincoln was topped by Wilson 11-4 in a duel match with Ron Caravano, medalist for the match, scoring a 73 and eight of the ten players breaking 80. Wilson defeated Olympia in a three-way meet. Dave Evans scored a three-under-par 68 for the top individual score.

Following the Olympia match the Wilson golf team had won all of their first five matches.

The positions of the golfers were Bob Morris, first; Dave Evans, second; Gary House, third; Ron Caravano, fourth; Doug Van DeMark, fifth. With seven matches left, these positions were subject to constant change. Varsity players and varsity aspirants continually challenged each other as they vied for top positions on the team.

TENNIS

Because there were no tennis courts completed at Wilson the varsity tennis team was forced to meet opponents on three home courts, one located at Jefferson Park, another at Franklin and a third at the College of Puget Sound.

Coach Mr. Bill Phillips used a chart to pick his first team of five players. Members of the team participated in challenge games against their teammates preceding varsity matches to gain high positions on the chart. The top five players who occupied the highest positions participated in the next varsity match. Each team played two double matches and five singles in a varsity meet.

Opening the season, the Rams met the Bellarmine Lions. Constant pre-season practice paid off as the Lions fell to Wilson by a 4-3 score. On the following week the netmen were topped by the Stadium Tigers. George Kemp and Jim Mock brought home the only two points in their singles matches, making the score 5-2 in favor of the Stadium netmen.

On the following week, Wilson lost to the Olympia Bears by a close 4-3 margin and was dealt a defeat by the Lincoln Abes.

After four matches against Aberdeen, Stadium, Olympia, and Lincoln, the varsity team was a third of the way through the season with eight more matches on their schedule.

Wilson's Varsity Track Team, coached by Mr. Dan Inveen, opened their season with a meet against the East Bremerton Knights. The Rams won their opener 59½-53½. Wayne Pavlic won his two specialties, the shot and the discus. Other events won by the Rams were the high jumping event with Larry Hause and Larry Jerdal tying for first, and Byron Stauffer and Mark Adams winning their events.

Following a defeat to the West Bremerton Wildcats the Rams scored a 70½-47½ victory over Franklin Pierce. Winning nine of the fourteen events, Woody Niethammer took a first in a 100 yard run with a time of 10.8 and a first in the 220 yard run. Byron Stauffer took the 440 with a 55.5 time, and Larry Johnson ran the 880 yard event. Larry Huff placed first in the low hurdles, Wayne Pavlic took the discus and shotput events, and Larry Hause went five feet, five inches to capture the high jump event.

Lincoln defeated the Wilson cindermen by a score of 74-39. Wayne Pavlic took the discus and shotput events. Larry Hause tied for first in the high jump. Lincoln captured most of the running events, giving the Abes the Capital and City League victory.

Fifteen high school teams participated in the Highline Invitational Meet in which Wayne Pavlic shattered the discus record by throwing it 144 feet to better the old mark of 143 feet, 1 inch set by Jerry Kerschner of Stadium in 1954.

With a 2-2 average after four meets and with Wayne Pavlic's ability which was demonstrated at the Highline Invitational Meet, a promising season remained for the varsity track team.

Starting the year as bewildered new members, the class of '61 soon became acquainted with the ways of high school. In their first elections, the sophomore class chose Skip Post, president; Larry Huff, vice president; Pam Cliffe, secretary; Gary Dyer, treasurer; Sandy Boyd, girls' representative, and Norm Cratzenburg, boys' representative.

During the first class project, the sophomores sold colorful pennants to the student body. In January another sale began. This time sheets of decals were sold. These decals consisted of pictures of Rams, and the words "Wilson High School."

Sales and projects did not completely occupy the sopomores' time, as they supported their classmates in many athletic events. Outstanding athletes of the sophomore class were Terry Parker, a football player; Larry Kurmel, a basketball player; and Mike Stauffer, a swimmer.

To begin their year as Wilson's first junior class, the cabinet appointed Pat Carlson and Don Hagen co-chairmen of the Junior Prom. "Nocturnal Aura," decorated in a modernistic theme with colors of light blue and black, was held in the school cafeteria late in November. During the fall the class also had a Booster Button sale which was planned by Nancy Wright and Ed Hudson.

In January the class held its first major money raising project. Natalie Blix and Dave Burrough planned the rummage sale which was a resourceful project and will become an annual affair. Because people enjoy a clean car at Easter, Larry Angelel and Mike Tetherow, co-chairmen, planned the class car wash for that time. The car wash proved to be another good source of income.

Ending the junior year was the Farewell to Seniors dance, planned by Co-Chairmen Linda Keizer and Burnie Gilje. This dance, held the day before the seniors' last day at school was the juniors' way of saying farewell to the upper classmen.

During the year, the senior class sponsored two major sales. Early in the fall class members sold book covers, and prior to the Turkey Day Game in November, Co-Chairmen Linda Ose and Dave Evans supervised a booster ribbon sale.

The first senior dance of the year was a sox-hop following the Wilson-Olympia game. During the dance, "June in January," Co-Chairmen Marsha Rome and Gary Feroglia awarded prizes to the persons who wore the fanciest socks.

Then in March the Senior Ball, "Flambeau," was held in the school cafeteria. Committee heads, under the leadership of Co-Chairmen Linda Grimseth and Art Rorem, decided to follow a general theme of "Hades, Class of '59." To begin a tradition, this dance was limited to seniors and their dates, and Daffodil Princess Lani Torre graced the throne during the grand march.

To end the all-important senior year, Dorothy Niethammer and Rick Carr arranged the Baccalaureate service which was held at Central Lutheran Church, and Julie Wynans and Chris Cherbas planned the final Senior Week.

Senior Co-Chairmen: D. Niethammer, Baccalaureate; L. Nichols and L. Saxon, Senior Banquet; M. Perkins and H. Pullin, Senior Assembly; J. Wynans and C. Cherbas, Senior Week.

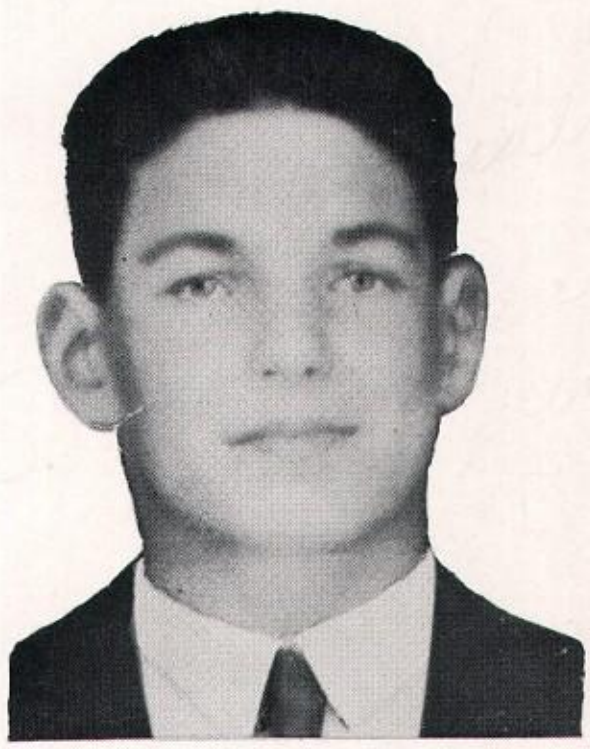
MEMORIAM

RON LEER
1941-1958

Christmas found us saddened by the death of Ron Leer who passed away in December, 1958. Those of us who knew Ron at Grant, Jason Lee, Wilson, and Stadium will long remember this quiet boy.



PAT TOWER
1941-1957

Pat Tower didn't come to Wilson with us, but his memory has been with us since his death in 1957, during our sophomore year. We shall remember his contributions as a member of our class.

FROM OUR SUPERINTENDENT

To the class of 1959 go my heartiest congratulations and my wish that good things may be in store for each of you.

Your commencement marks the beginning of many generations born of a new high school, one significantly named for a great intellectual and political leader of men.

Woodrow Wilson had faith in intelligence. His life of service demonstrated that ideas can work, that principles can be put into practice, ana that ideals can be real and practical.

When the Princeton Professor left his college to begin a life of political service, all American became his classroom. There is inspiration here for all of us. Believe in thought, have faith that ideals and principles are workable and practical. Continue to widen your horizons of learning in America's classroom.

My Dearling Brent (sp?)
I've really enjoyed being with you all the times of the typing class I'll miss you Dave

Done for you
Nora

Dear Brent,
Man, you're really a rank. Good luck next year and take good care of Lynn Organ.
Love & Kisses
Dave Evans

Hey Stud.
Good luck with the sports car
Neil Sutton

Brent
Its really been a ball in Physics this year, hope to see you next year.
Dick Palmer

Dear Brent,
Well its been fun in Trig kid?
Take it easy this Summer and lot of luck to a real swell guy. See you next year.
Duane Donnell

Good luck to a true friend.
Art Carnahan

To the MG kid

It's been a lot of fun having you in trig. this year and sweating out all those tests together. I hope that we'll have some classes together next year. Maybe I'll see you out on the bay with your boat this summer when I have mine out. Lots of luck to a good guy.
Marty Peterson

Hi Brent
Well its been a good year here. I have enjoyed doing your homework, knowing that it wasn't for me that you should be a junior next year. Good luck in the future. Don't tear up too much in that MG your friend
Wayne Eaton

Hi Brent,
It's been fun this year in Trig, even if we do both flunk. Have fun this Summer. Be seeing you next year in Trig class
Good Luck always.

Jack Howard

Hi Brent (Shirl)

Here we are, seniors, the big wigs and all that crap. Typing work be the same without you sharing all the fun we've had. I'll miss you. Good luck to you & Judie next year.

Love,
Judie Flock

Say, I should be mad at you for stealing Lynn Dargay from me but I'm not. I sure hope you have fun with her. Good luck next year.

Ken Cavano

Dear Brent,

Well we have all survived our Junior year except the Mr. Wingard's Roll Room, yanks and all. Next year will most likely have a real party ball.

Honestly putting all kidding aside, I've never met a person who I have enjoyed more. Your sense of humor really surprises me. You're always one step ahead of me. I'll bet you really get up early to think up some of your clever sayings.

You're really a wonderful person and I want to wish all the luck and success a neat guy like you deserves.

Maybe I'll see you this summer. Yes? No?

Love,

Lynn Dargan

Dear Brent,
It has lots of fun this year in typing. Have loads of fun this summer.

as always (crazy)
Barbara Dearinger

P.S. Brent in the duckpound quack quack quacks, along came Mara, smack smack smack.

Dear Brent,
It's been fun knowing you this year although I would have liked to know you better. summer and stay out of trouble and don't fleet with too many girls. Best of luck always"
See you next year
Sandy
